Dear Mr. Equina:

To comply with Chapter 5.1, Section 20.95.1 of the Los Angeles Administrative Code, this letter is being provided to the Los Angeles Department of Water & Power as requested by the Responsible Banking Ordinance – Corporate Citizenship Statement Form.

Raymond James is dedicated to an inclusive and diverse environment where differences are understood, respected and valued. As the Vice President of Procurement for Raymond James, I have the responsibility to ensure that the Firm's values with regard to diversity are extended to our suppliers as well.

Raymond James Procurement is leading the effort to clearly define a Supplier Diversity policy by July 2018. We have developed an approach to ensure that supplier diversity is considered as part of the supplier selection process, and we are currently working on updating our policies and procedures to incorporate supplier diversity accordingly. In October 2016, Raymond James contracted with a third party to assist with the diversity designation and classification of our supply base, which enabled Procurement to report diverse spend and percentage. In October 2017, Raymond James implemented the PeopleSoft ERP applications, including the Supplier Contract Module, which will provide contract reporting against our list of diverse suppliers.

Our vision is to employ Supplier Diversity in all contracting and procurement initiatives within the corporation to enhance the growth and development of Minority and Woman-Owned Business Enterprises. We look forward to updating you with our progress toward our supplier diversity program in future years.

Sincerely,

Lawrence Martiny
Vice President, Procurement
